

How dare someone tell me what I can and cannot listen too. I pay good money so I dont have to hear the same tired radio everyday. Im tired of the boring programming and having to go through the dial to hear one song I might actually enjoy. I was excited when I heard about XM Radio because I felt like finally I was given the chance and choice to be able to listen to the type of radio genres that I enjoy and not have some programmer at a radio station beats a song to death to me over and over again. As of now, Im sick and tired of the FCC barging into my life. If I want your opinion, Ill ask for it. As for now, I pay for this radio service and I want to have the freedom to listen to what I paid for. If you dont like it, then don't listen.
